Instrument
Worked to download NPP data from the new EDOS SD3 test back-up site. Could not get to the website due to issue on the GSFC end, but they were finally fixed on Tuesday. Downloaded the necessary data, however, the data is in an entirely different format than any of the other NPP data and so a new program to read the data and create L0 files needs to be written. Working to write the program, so that CERES can report on whether we can use this data as a back-up source.
CERES did not ask for eph/att data, so Denise will look to see if that data is available from any of the other instrument areas on the site.
